

Find your animal sign--

12 Chinese Zodiac Animals Chart

www.littledragonmandarin.co.uk

Shǔ 鼠	Rat		1936	1948	1960	1972	1984	1996	2008
Niú 牛	Ox		1937	1949	1961	1973	1985	1997	2009
Hǔ 虎	Tiger		1938	1950	1962	1974	1986	1998	2010
Tù 兔	Rabbit		1939	1951	1963	1975	1987	1999	2011
Lóng 龙 (龍)	Dragon		1940	1952	1964	1976	1988	2000	2012
Shé 蛇	Snake		1941	1953	1965	1977	1989	2001	2013
Mǎ 马 (馬)	Horse		1942	1954	1966	1978	1990	2002	2014
Yáng 羊	Goat		1943	1955	1967	1979	1991	2003	2015
Hóu 猴	Monkey		1944	1956	1968	1980	1992	2004	2016
Jī 鸡 (雞)	Rooster		1945	1957	1969	1981	1993	2005	2017
Gǒu 狗	Dog		1946	1958	1970	1982	1994	2006	2018
Zhū 猪 (豬)	Pig		1947	1959	1971	1983	1995	2007	2019

Nǐ shǔ shénme? (What's your animal sign?)

Wǒ shǔ _____. (My animal sign is _____.)

Chinese Astrology Animal Characteristics&Traits

The Rat of the Chinese Zodiac is a doer. Not just a doer but one that can get more accomplished in less time than the average person.

The Ox. Stubborn. Stubborn. And stubborn. The Ox takes the cake in this category.

Tigers are fierce leaders so following others is not their strong point. Up for a challenge? The Tiger never backs down from competition.

The Rabbit. Conservative yet fashionably attractive. Not too flashy but they are usually neatly dressed.

The Dragon. Insert foot in mouth. The Dragon is notorious for blurting out the first thing that comes to their mind.

The Snake. Attractive and charming. The Snake epitomizes the art of seduction. Pre-wired with wisdom galore. The Snake always relies on its natural intuition.

The Horse. Considered one of the most “masculine” of the Chinese Zodiac, the Horse is usually dominant in a lot of areas. Extremely independent. leave home earlier than most.

The Sheep and all its elegance is considered the most feminine of the Chinese Zodiac. Very intuitive. The Sheep is wired with psychic abilities.

Monkey: intelligent, clever, quick witted, naturally funny, unfaithful.

Rooster: a braggart/likes to boast, well dressed, good fashion sense, keenly observant, flashy on the outside but conservative by nature.

Dog: extremely loyal, courageous, always on alert mode/very attentive, generous, a giver not a taker.

Pig: honest, thirst for knowledge, highly intelligent, gentle, more of a watcher than doer.